The Citizen Participation Plan defines the difference between a minor and substantial amendment. A minor amendment involves carrying out an activity or program previously described in the existing Annual Action Plan but includes a change in funding. The City's Community Development Department may administratively amend, up to the substantial amendment thresholds (increasing or reducing the amount allocated to an activity by more than 25 percent), the existing budget for activities or programs to efficiently expend funds (including program income) related to previously disclosed activities or programs in accordance with the intent of the funds identified in the previously undertaken citizen participation process.

The Columbus Community Development Department is administratively amending the existing budget for PY 2017. This amendment includes the movement of $5,000 from the current Administration/Fair Housing project budget ($53,200) to the current public facilities project budget ($91,452). The movement of the funds will impact the budget by reducing the Administration/Fair Housing project budget to $39,534.34 and increasing the public facilities project budget to $96,452. The amendment is less than a 25% reduction and increase for the related projects or activities and is therefore determined to be a minor amendment.

The Public Facilities funding will be utilized for a much needed Turning Point Renovation project as the project is rebid. Project costs have escalated significantly within the past year when the project was originally approved. The additional funding will allow this activity to move forward. This revision to the budget will be reported in the 2022 CAPER.

Following is the proposed budget reallocation:
